UNITED WAY CAMPAIGN is ready to be launched with a kickoff breakfast Friday morning at the Granite City Township Building, and this group of volunteers is ready to make telephone calls and other contacts as

United campaign will open

A special Tri-Cities Area United Way service film preview—featuring country and western singing star Loretta Lynn, will precede Friday's United Way general solicitation kick-off breakfast at the Granite City Township Building.

The kick-off meeting is being sponsored by the Tri-Cities Trades and Labor Council, American Steel Foundries, Granite City Steel, the Nestle Company and A. O. Smith Corporation.

Tri-Cities Area United Way general campaign chairman is William P. Donovan, American Steel works manager.

"Individuals, employee group key men or women, and others interested in previewing this United Way campaign film can do so by arriving just a little earlier. The film will be shown continuously from 7 a.m. to 7:30 a.m., at which time the fall 1978 drive kickoff breakfast begins," Donovan said.

Construction resumes here

Quad-City area building projects—delayed 41 days by a strike of approximately 4,000 laborers in a 12-county Southern Illinois area—were resumed today following ratification Sunday of a new three-year working agreement between the Southern Illinois Builders Association, the Southwest District Laborers Council and five laborers locals.

Among major Quad-City projects that have been tied up by the strike are expansion of St. Elizabeth Hospital and construction of the new Granite City police station at 23rd Street and Madison Avenue.

The strike involved approximately 4,000 laborers who put up picket lines Aug. 1 after their contract expired at midnight on July 31. The strike idled another estimated 8,000 building trades workers on highway and building projects when they refused to cross the laborers' picket lines.

The Southwest District Laborers' Council ratified the new agreement Sunday for 39 members locals and the Building laborers in 29 of those locals. The other ten-building laborers locals act on their own behalf.

Granite City Laborers local was among those approving the new contract, but pickets remained up today at jobs in O'Fallon, Mascoutah, Belleville, Collinsville and Waterloo pending ratification meetings tonight.

The laborers will receive a $2.55 per hour increase over the three years of the pact, scheduled at 85 cents an hour in each year, although some will get them on a different schedule, according to Wayne Barber, executive manager of the SIBA.

Work rules were the principal stalemate during negotiations in which the laborers rejected two contract proposals.

Negotiations were resumed last Thursday, continued through Friday and

Cheering crowd hails patriarch

By "MICK" STRANGE

Greeted by a cheering crowd, His Holiness Maxim, head of the Bulgarian Orthodox Church, arrived at 9:30 a.m. Sunday at the Holy Trinity Bulgarian Eastern Orthodox Church in Madison.

A group of laymen and children from the church welcomed the Patriarch with the traditional bread and salt.

Two young girls gave their welcome in Bulgarian.

His Holiness Maxim then pontificated at Divine Vespers in the Madison church. In the Bulgarian Orthodox religion, the Patriarch is the equivalent to the Pope in the Roman Catholic religion.

Today, the Patriarch will visit St. Louis churches and historical sites.

This evening he will meet with the church board of Madison at the St. Louis Media Club where he will discuss various aspects of the Madison church and recent problems.

Tuesday, he will visit Springfield and meet with Catholic Bishop Joseph McNicholas and members of the Illinois Legislature.

Sunday evening, 648 persons filled the Chase Club of the Chase Park Plaza Hotel in St. Louis at a dinner and reception for the Bulgarian patriarch.

The procession opened the dinner. Participating in the procession were three Metropolitans Pankraty, Philaret, and Kalnik, Deacon Dr. Vasil Velyanov, MD, personal physician of Maxim, Professor Dr. Todor Sabeff, Bishop Simeon and Vladimir Bakardjef, secretary.

Co-hosts for the dinner were John Beloff of Madison and John H. Londoff of St. Louis, president of the Holy Trinity Bulgarian Orthodox Church in Madison.

EPA charges pollution excess here

By HARRY BARNES
Press-Record Staff Writer

Granite City has been named in proceedings filed with the Illinois Pollution Control Board charging it has been discharging contaminants into the Chain of Rocks Canal through its secondary sewage treatment plant in varying periods since November 1977, it was learned by the Press-Record today.

The suit, filed by the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency, asks the control board to assess a penalty against the city not to exceed $10,000 for the violation of national pollution standards generally, and to fine the city up to $10,000 for each day it is found in violation.

The suit was filed before the pollution control board by Attorney General William J. Scott's office and has been assigned to Marvin Barnes, Granite City attorney, as hearing officer.

Basically, the complaint alleges that effluent discharged into the canal, a tributary of the Mississippi River, has exceeded national water pollution standards established in the permit that was issued to Granite City for operation of the secondary sewage treatment plant.

The complaint alleges violation of national water pollution standards under an NPDES (effluent standards) permit issued to Granite City by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency in November 1976.

Three counts are contained in the proceeding. The first alleges that Granite City, since November 1977, has discharged effluent into the river with biochemical oxygen demand (BOD) in excess of the limitations set out in the NPDES permit.

The second count charges the city has discharged into the river since Dec. 2, 1977, effluent that contained suspended solids in excess of the NPDES limits, and count three alleges the discharge since Jan. 8, 1978, of effluent containing iron values in excess of the national standards.

Each count asks the Illinois Pollution Control Board to assess the $10,000 penalty and an additional $10,000 for each day of violation.

Accompanying the complaint are a number of exhibits, including letters written by the late Robert Jackson, then superintendent of the sewage treatment plant, listing the volume of contaminants discharged through the plant, and explaining the cause of the violations.

On Sept. 5, the attorney general's office filed a motion for a request for admission of genuineness of documents filed with the complaint. That motion asked that a hearing be set within 20 days.

For the most part, the late Mr. Jackson's letters attributed excessive contaminants to malfunctioning of equipment in the comparatively new secondary water treatment plant, and failure of the plant design and equipment to perform according to specifications.

Lance Callis, city attorney, told the Press-Record that the city will admit the genuineness of the documents filed in the case except that which states that Granite City is the owner and operator of the treatment plant.

The city has not yet accepted the plan from the contractor and architect, a factor that will constitute the city's principal defense against the EPA charges.

Granite City officials contend that the contractor failed to meet specifications of error in installation procedures in some parts of the plant and that these faults were responsible for overruns in construction.

Unique method helps teach how to care for the elderly

How would you feel if you had a bit tired around your neck before dinner each evening?
 What if someone had to feed you and go in a hurry—would they give you time to swallow?
 What if you do not know your emotions to be strapped down?
 What if you went to a concert and couldn't hear the music?
 Students in Judy Bravin's geriatric nurse assistant class, offered by Belleville Area College, learn these things by experience. They are bibbed and sometimes blindfolded before they are fed.

Cotton is put into their ears and they are taken by wheelchair to a musical performance in front of their friends. They are tied down with a posey.

They are bathed by the other students and, when the classes are over, they invariably say,
 "I learned a lot more patience and understanding—not just with those in my care, but with people in general."

Judy Bravin has designed the course specifically for personnel of geriatric complexes and nursing homes. She believes it is the first assistant training of its kind in this area of the state.

The course lasts six weeks and is taught from 1 to 5 p.m.
 so that both day and evening shift workers may attend.

She explains that nursing homes often pay the tuition for their workers to attend the class, and will usually give them two hours a day paid time to match the two hours of their own time they spend in the class.

Some homes arrange special schedules to allow personnel to attend.

Although the classes are not limited to those already working in nursing homes, they are designed with those already employed in mind.

Recently, one aide who had worked with the elderly for 26 years said that she "got a lot from the course" and learned some things about dealing with the elderly that she had not known.

The curriculum includes basic nursing procedures, with their special applications to the elderly; study of the body's anatomy, including changes that occur with aging; basic therapy programs designed for the elderly; and exercises to increase the understanding of both physical and emotional needs of the elderly.

According to Judy Bravin, one of the most important aspects of the class is an exploration of students' own attitudes and feelings toward getting old.

She notes, as an example, that people tend to shout at the hard-of-hearing. "This is actually making it more difficult for people to understand you," she says.

"Shouting raises the pitch of your voice. If you will lower your voice, it will lower the pitch and will make it easier for the hard-of-hearing person to understand you."

Although enrollment in the classes is open, each class is limited to 16 students. Tuition for the six-week class is $65.
 Registration may be completed in the Great St. Studies office on the main BAC campus at 2500 Carlyle Road. The next class will begin Sept. 25.

Judy Bravin, instructor for the class, is a registered nurse and is coordinator of Belleville Area College's nurse aide-assistant-ward clerk program.

A graduate of Marquette High School in Alton, she is married to Tom Bravin. They live at 816

Kneidler, Collinsville.

Asked about the unique program she has designed for those who work with the elderly, she says, "Although I didn't specialize in it, gerontology has always been a love of mine."

"I have always been concerned about the care of older patients and have long wanted to do something like this."

Perhaps her attitude is best summed up by a remark one of the students made: "This instructor seemed to me to be one who has elderly people in her heart."

Youngster, 6, injured by car

A 6-year-old was injured when she ran from behind a parked vehicle into the street and struck the side of a moving auto operated by David L. Sumner, 42, of St. Louis, at 6:10 p.m.
 Thursday.

Laura D. Hutchins, 6, of 2701
 Buxton Ave., suffered abrasions to the right knee and left leg and
 hip. She was treated at St.
 Elizabeth Hospital and then released.

Sumner said after he saw the child, he swerved to avoid striking her, but the youngster ran into the side of his auto. The accident occurred in front of 2715 Buxton Ave.

Births decline during August

Fifty-six births reported in the Quad-City area during August was a sharp drop below the total of 95 births in the same month a year ago, according to a vital statistics report released by Robert Stevens, city clerk.

The total of 33 deaths last month was an increase of only one over the 32 reported in August 1977, and the one fetal during August was an increase of one over none in August a year ago, the report showed.

Births last month brought to 475 the total reported in the area during the first eight months of the year, a decrease of 208 below the total for the same period last year.

August deaths brought the eight-month total this year to 306, down from 371 for the period in 1977. There have been eight fetal deaths so far this year, down one from nine reported in that period in 1977.

Allergies, pregnancy dilemma

The pregnant female must be cautious when taking medications for allergies. In the August issue of Annals of Internal Medicine, Paul Greenberger, M.D., and Roy Patterson, M.D., of Chicago discuss certain drugs for the safety of the mother and the fetus.

The Annals of Internal Medicine is the official journal of the American College of Physicians, a national professional association of more than 40,000 specialists in internal medicine and related areas.

Doctors Greenberger and Patterson said, "When a physician is seeking information about drug safety during pregnancy, the Physician's Desk Reference (PDR) is of little value in some cases and inconsistent in others."

"The physician is put on the spot, so to speak. He must authorize a drug to relieve the pregnant woman's allergy, even though the PDR may state that 'safety of this drug in human pregnancy has not been established, and use of the drug in pregnancy requires that the expected therapeutic benefit be weighed against possible hazard to mother and child.'"

"This is not very helpful. One answer is to avoid the use of medication as much as possible during pregnancy, and in the authors' opinion, 'during the first trimester of pregnancy, no medication should be given unless absolutely essential.'"

"Congress has informed the drug companies that a drug has to be proved safe before it can be given to a pregnant woman. Tests to determine this are difficult, because of the problem of deciding whether data from animal experiments is applicable to humans."

The two physicians (both at Northwestern University Medical School) conclude:

"The possible but apparently improbable adverse effects of drugs used in the therapy of allergic disease should be viewed in relation to the possible adverse effects of the allergic disease on pregnancy. The outstanding example is the use of steroids in asthma, where the disease itself can pose important risks to both the mother and fetus."

Expect ruling on Hileman pension today

Oral arguments were heard this morning by Associate Judge George Moran in Edwardsville on the status of the pension for former Granite City Assistant Fire Chief Charles Hileman.

After the hearing, Moran requested attorneys for Hileman and for the Firemen's Pension Fund Board to submit written briefs on the case to him by this afternoon. "I imagine I will issue my ruling this afternoon after I read the case law from the attorneys," Moran stated.

He is considering whether a permanent injunction should be issued to prohibit the pension board from revoking Hileman's $1,620 per month pension.

The pension board contends Hileman is not eligible for the pension, due to a plea of guilty last September to three felony counts of theft. Hileman's attorneys contend the alleged thefts were not job-related and, therefore, do not affect the pension.

They also contend the pension rules were passed after Hileman became a fireman and do not apply to him.

TREATED AT HOSPITAL
Augusta Young Jr., 34, of East St. Louis, was treated for a 3-inch cut to the right forearm at St. Elizabeth Hospital, and was released at 11:30 p.m. Friday. He allegedly was injured in a dispute with a relative in Venice. No charges were filed against the relative. Young reported to police a wallet containing service discharge papers was stolen during the incident.

Benefit ball game will aid Shriners' Hospital

Special guest of the Ainad Temple baseball charity game at Busch Stadium between the Cardinals and the Cubs on Saturday, Sept. 23, will be "Ricky," a youngster born without arms, but who at the age of 6 has overcome that defect.

Ricky has been seen throughout the continent on film, and his movie career has brought smiles and tears to those that have had the chance to see him, both on film and in person, Shrine officers said.

Tickets for the ball game are $4 with $1 going to the Shrine Hospital, but they must be purchased at the Shrine Temple at 609 St. Louis Ave., East St. Louis, before the 19th of September. All are on the first base side of the stadium.

Past Potentate Bob Hardy who narrated the film and helped to produce it originally, is shown with Ricky on his recent visit to the Shriners Hospital for Crippled Children.

The Uniformed Units of Ainad will start the afternoon off with their appearance at 12 noon. Following the Units will be a program at home plate with Ricky and other members of the Shrine Hospital for Crippled Children, St. Louis

Potentate C. A. "Jack" Dempsey of Granite City will head the program.

"To help the hospital, you must purchase your tickets at the temple," Dempsey noted.

The preschool classes will start Monday, Sept. 25 and conclude about Dec. 20. Sessions are scheduled each Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

Children who will be 3 years old by Dec. 31 will attend sessions from 9:15 a.m. to 10:45 a.m.

Those reaching the age of 4 years by Dec. 31 will attend the 12:30 p.m. to 2 p.m. session, according to Mrs. Millie Chandler, program supervisor. Requirements for the program include a current physical examination and a $5 fee to cover snacks.

The Child Care program is geared to give high school students experience in working with preschool children, Mrs. Chandler said.

This experience will help prepare the students for jobs in the Day Care field; as well as being knowledgeable parents later in life, she explained.

The high school students will provide learning opportunities for the preschool child and special activities. Snacks also will be served.

Registration on Sept. 18 and Sept. 19 will be between the hours listed for the regular sessions, Mrs. Chandler said.

For the program to work effectively, parents must agree to bring the child daily.

There is a limited enrollment and classes will be filled on a first come, first served basis, the supervisor said.

FUN IN VENICE — Venice Mayor William Ebersoldt and Dale Crawford, superintendent of the Venice Park, on a bicycle built for two, lead several hundred children in a parade which proceeded to Market Street which was closed off so the boys and girls could hold bike races. Prizes and trophies were awarded and Mayor Ebersoldt said he hopes to be able to hold the event again next year.

Street work faces delay

A single bid for a street resurfacing program in all seven wards of Granite City was rejected by the City Council last week in a move that may make it too late to get much of the work done before inclement weather sets in this year.

Acting on a recommendation by City Traffic Engineer Edward Schulte, the council turned down a bid by Reese Construction Co. for street resurfacing work ranging from $30,000 to $35,000 in each of the seven wards.

Schulte told the aldermen that the Reese bid of $282,022 was 14 percent over the original engineer's estimate of $238,370.

In response to a question by an alderman as to why only one bid was received for the work, City Engineer Monroe Brewer told the council that the strike by laborers that began Aug. 1 had set most contract work back by more than a month and that he found most of the contractors are "booked up" on other jobs.

He said that since it will require at least another three weeks to call new bids, it is likely the city will meet delay in getting all of the work done this fall.

Alderman Clyde Boyd, chairman of the council's street and alley committee, made the motion to concur in Schulte's recommendation and reject the bid. The motion also provided that a new bid call be issued.

The work to be done primarily is resurfacing of streets most seriously damaged by the severe weather last winter.

The aldermen agreed to allot motor fuel tax funds of approximately $30,000 to $35,000 for each ward.

The council last week also approved payment of a claim for $47,824 to M. H. Wolfe Construction Co. for labor and materials, and a claim of $4,500 for Stewart-Decatur Security Systems, for work on the new police station building at 23rd Street and Madison Avenue.

Also approved was a request by the Kiwanis Club for permission to conduct a peanut sale Sept. 15 and 16 at Nameoki and Fehling roads.

Council members were notified that the Illinois Cities and Villages Municipal Commission will conduct a public hearing in Chicago at 3 p.m. Friday, Sept. 15, in which the commission will receive testimony concerning the needs of municipalities.

The hearing will be held in conjunction with the four-day meeting of the Illinois Municipal League which opens Friday at the Conrad Hilton Hotel in Chicago.

It will be the first in a series of hearings to be held in the state to establish groundwork for new legislation to meet the primary needs of cities and villages.

The council approved a request that the police department make regular checks of four collection points during the Fay Boworth Marathon by Richard Rose on Sept. 16. The event is being sponsored by the Illinois Business and Technical school.

A request for a license to operate a pinball arcade in Granite City was placed on file by the aldermen. No proposed site was given in the request which was made by Jim Vbarra and Steven M. Donaldson.

OPTION TO SCHOOLS ON DONATED FOODS

Illinois schools and schools nationwide may refuse up to 20 percent of the foods offered by the U.S. Department of Agriculture for use in their school lunch program, Assistant Secretary Carol Tucker Foreman, said Thursday.

"We are amending our regulations to be more responsive to school needs and preferences," she said. "The change will allow schools to substitute other foods given to the states by the department to the extent that they are available during the school year."

There's an Answer!

by Norman Vincent Peale and Ruth Stafford Peale

That certain feeling drives her 'foolish'

Q. This man I have been in love with from my high school days is troubling my mind.

A. We went together in high school and broke off. Later on, I married and it didn't work out. I got a divorce.

Years later, this high school boy friend was back in my hometown, and we ran into each other. Every time he was in town, he would come over. The feeling I had for him was still there. I was in love with him.

The problem is that he has lately gotten married, and I can't get him out of my mind and heart. I'm trying. What else is there to do?

This feeling is driving me foolish. A. Better get rid of your feeling for your old high school friend or it will do more than drive you foolish. It will get you into a lot of trouble.

He is married. He is another woman's husband and you have no right to entertain ideas about him. So, if you want to make sense out of your life, put him out of your mind; you can do that if you have a mind to.

Perhaps you might find help in our booklet, WHAT TO DO WHEN, which is free to any reader of this column. Write to us at Box 500, Pawling, N.Y. 12564.

Q. Before he died, my husband told me all about the women he went with. He said he had to tell me. He ran around on me for 34 years. I thought he did, but I loved him so much and didn't want to mess up my children's home.

I do know my husband died with a guilty conscience. He let me know that lots of times before he died.

Please tell me how I can get over a hurt that won't leave me. A. Your husband used you as a confessor. His guilt, he felt, had to come out and he laid it on you.

While this may be considered weakness on his part, it also is a great compliment to you that in his mind, only you could absolve him from sin.

He is now in eternity and in the hands of God. If you forgive him, you will find comfort and the hurt will pass away.

WITHOUT CONFIDENCE. Q. I'm a girl with a problem of worrying constantly and thinking the worst is going to happen.

It's very hard for me to talk to people, and I have few friends. I want to get a job in a store, but I'm chicken because I'm shy and have no confidence.

I believe in God, but I don't understand why there is disease and unhappiness on this earth that God made. So I am fearful. Do you think you can help?

A. The only way to get over your worry and anxiety feelings is to cultivate the opposite mental attitude, which, of course, is positive thinking and faith.

This won't come easy, but it is possible to change your thought pattern.

Whenever a worry thought comes, be it small or large,

Work-study for veterans

Veterans tallying up their expenditures when they enroll or return to college this month may find that they need extra cash in order to complete their education.

Donald Ramsey, director of the VA regional office in Chicago, says a work-study program administered by the VA may be the solution for extra funds.

College students taking a full course load are eligible for up to 750 hours of employment each fiscal year under the work-study program. Students are paid $2.65 each hour and work either in VA offices, facilities or at college campuses.

Ramsey urges veterans who will need such jobs to apply as early as possible in order to avoid delays in getting schedules set up for the work year.

Ramsey points out that about half of Illinois veterans from the Vietnam war have taken some training under the GI Bill. But with the 10-year time limit to use the benefit drawing to an end for many veterans, the VA wants interested veterans to know of the work-study program. Other funds are available through a student loan.

Information on supplemental monetary help available for veterans taking fulltime GI Bill training is available from the VA or from veterans service organizations.

Tight writing strokes display conservatism

I worry about our moral standards falling apart. I am full of anxiety when I wonder what kind of a country we have. I feel no security anymore. — S.W.

Dear S.W.: We still have a great country.

There's just a lot of digging out and filling in to be done. You are an all-around conservative person, seen in your tightly knit strokes.

You live in such a tight compartment that your personality has little room to breathe. You don't adjust well to change, so there's no variety in your life.

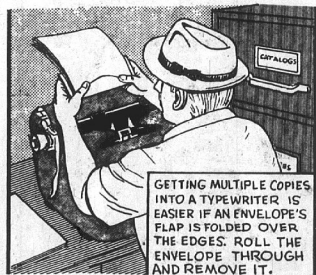

You are a serious person, seen in the pressure of your writing. You stay very close to yourself, seeing life only through the peek holes of your mind. With your smaller than average writing, you focus in on what you see with an intensely critical eye, seen in the v-wedges in h and n's. I dread to think of what the unhealthy morals and impoverished art, dancing across your television screen, must be doing to your mind and heart. You cannot fade it from your thoughts because you are so all-absorbing, pressured and small writing.

Rather than rallying in fruitless frustration, seen in the t crossings to the right, you should try to release yourself to some kind of good will toward others. Think about the meaning of your own life and the development of your own faculties and capacities. Then, as you spread your life into a wider world, keep your sense of values, seen in the tall h and x loops.

Real security lies in our principles and in loyalty to our beliefs. It's the groping and grasping for material security that causes our morally committed nation to become corroded.

What kind of country

'How are you going to keep them down on the prairie . . .

Q. I understand "Little House on the Prairie" will undergo major changes during the coming season. Is this true? — E.B.

A. As you may recall, the fourth season of "Little House on the Prairie" ended with the highly rated two-part drama in which the Ingalls family suffered with their eldest daughter, Mary, as she went blind, and was forced to seek a new life in a distant city. During the season's forthcoming fifth season, the plot line will follow the Ingalls as economic conditions force them away from the simple farm life in Walnut Grove into the noisy city where Mary is a teacher at a school for the blind. Although happy to be back with Mary, the family is jarred by life in the wild little city of Woonika, particularly when Charles and his wife, Caroline, are forced to work as janitor and cook-waitress in a busy hotel.

Panther still thinking pink

"Revenge of the Pink Panther" (PG) — Peter Sellers returns (what, again?) as the very funny Inspector Clouseau pursued by the French underworld, the New York Mafia, the Hong Kong police and Chief Inspector Dreyfus. Ingeniously he disguises himself as a Swedish fisherman with a rubber parrot on his shoulder. Sellers, of course, is his comical self as the fumbling, bumbling detective, and the show moves along swiftly. If you liked early Panther episodes, this is your cup of tea.

No minimum age

Q. A neighbor says she has a two-year-old who is getting SSI. Is that legal? I thought you had to be 65.

A. In addition to aged (65 and over) SSI also pays benefits to needy blind or disabled people. There is no minimum age limit if the person is blind or disabled.

In the case of young children who are blind or disabled, they may receive SSI benefits if they are members of families with limited income and resources.

Second trust deed unusual

Q. A remodeling contractor has offered to loan me the necessary money to add a bedroom and bath if I will give him back a second trust deed as security. Is this proper? — Manuel M.

A. It is perfectly proper, although it is somewhat unusual. Most remodeling contractors do not care to tie up their capital in this way. Your contractor may have an investor "in the wings" who will then buy the trust deed from him.

Either way, it should make no difference to you. But be sure to check on the interest rate he will charge for the second trust deed. The loan terms should be competitive, and you should also be sure you are not paying a price too high for the remodeling just because the financing is so readily available.

Board will check bids

By MICK STRANGE
Press-Record Staff Writer

A discussion regarding sandwich bids in the Madison School District, scheduled for Thursday night's School Board meeting was delayed by a 4 to 2 vote of the board on a motion by Elvers Johnson.

Board President Sam Dymas and Paul Bargiel voted against the delay and Mrs. Billie Bosworth, Richard Zeisler, Chester McManaway and Johnson voted to table the matter.

Johnson said the reason for the delay to a special meeting was that many of the board members were unaware of the problem and needed to review all the facts. He would not elaborate on what the problem was.

However, one board member indicated that the sandwich bids were to a company that is charging seven cents a sandwich more than the next lowest bidder, and that misinformation was given to the board as to such items as where the sandwiches are made and type of packaging. Another question was raised as to the quality of the different sandwiches.

It was reported by Mrs. Evelyn Holt, cafeteria director that in the first two weeks the new soda machines put in by the board at the Madison High School has made $488 for the schools. She noted that last year the district received only $225 from the vendor that had the machines.

A letter from Larry Graham, basketball coach at MHS, requesting another assistant basketball coach, was tabled for a future personnel meeting. It was mentioned that a combined freshman-sophomore schedule of 19 games could be worked out and coaching assignments altered, according to Superintendent John Palech.

A discussion was held by the board on the problems of the autistic child and various methods of working with them.

In Madison a teacher is working two hours a day with one child.

The question of need for viability of the child when he is put into the "time out box" was raised by President Dymas.

It was explained that the child is only in the time out box for a few minutes, but it could be altered so the teacher may view the child.

It was suggested by Assistant Superintendent Wade James the board visit the Judevine Center for Autistic Children in St. Louis, in order to see first hand various behavioral modification programs.

The administration was instructed that a letter should be sent to the Service Employees International Union that a meeting requested was not needed, as the issue is not a matter of contract.

The union requested to meet with the board to discuss the recent dismissal of Benjamin Honorable, a custodial employee and Local 98 member.

It was noted that Honorable was dismissed because he moved out of the school district, which is a violation of board policy.

The administration was instructed to note in the letter that there was no question about his work, that he had been a very good worker for 18 years, but the policy is firm, that all non-certified personnel must live within the school district and that he had moved out of the district with full knowledge of the rule.

In other action the board: Gave permission for Blair School Parents to hold their regular monthly meeting on the third Wednesday of each month in the Blair multi-purpose room from 7 p.m. until 8:30 p.m. beginning Sept. 20.

Approved Brownie Troop 538 meetings at the Harris School on Mondays.

Authorized a reply to a Capital Development Board inquiry as to the disposition of school land and buildings, and to inform CDB no decision on Dunbar or Madison Junior High disposition has been reached.

Approved Carol Stearns and Luvenia Long, both female coaches at MHS, to attend clinics for coaches.

Accepted with regret the resignation of Mrs. Vervin Haynes, MHS English teacher.

Authorized 10 secretaries to attend the Illinois Association of Educational Secretaries to attend a conference in Chicago.

Conalco wages up 18¢ hour

About 30,000 members of the United Steelworkers of America (USWA) employed by four major aluminum companies will receive a pay adjustment of 18 cents an hour effective Sept. 4, under the cost-of-living provisions of the 1977 settlement with the firms, USWA President Lloyd McBride announced today.

The 18 cents adjustment will be included in the standard hourly rate structure for all hours paid for, starting Sept. 4. The September increase will bring to 57 cents an hour the total cost-of-living adjustments under the 1977 settlement negotiated with the Aluminum Company of America, Reynolds Metals Co., Kaiser Aluminum and Chemical Corp. and Consolidated Aluminum Corp.

The cost-of-living formula in the 1977 settlement provides for a one-cent-an-hour increase for each 0.2 point increase in the Consumer Price Index (CPI) (1967-100).

The index base for determining cost-of-living adjustments under the 1977 settlement is 179.6. The revised CPI for July 1978 is just announced by the U.S. Department of Labor is 196.7.

In the Quad-City area, this will mean that approximately 650 USWA members employed by Consolidated Aluminum Corporation (CONALCO) in Madison will receive the 18 cents cost-of-living adjustment, George J. Knecht, staff representative, United Steelworkers of America, said.

There are more than 210 contribution units in the division. Lee, serving as volunteer leader of this United Way solicitation division for the second consecutive year, "brings additional United Way experience to our community-wide effort through such community service as that of board member and treasurer of the Tri-City Area YMCA," United Way general campaign chairman William P. Donovan comments.

"We're glad to have Jack on our team again. With the help of the people in Rotary and the Junior Service Club, we are confident the target for the Madison-Venice community solicitation will be reached and exceeded."

For the third time in three weeks, the Goodwill Store, 19th Street and Delmar Avenue, was burglarized sometime prior to 9 a.m. Friday, the manager, Virgil Hankins, reported.

"Twenty pairs of men's pants and a small fan were the only items known missing at the time, according to the report. Since the store was empty, unknown means and no forcible entry was evident, police believe someone entered the store through a manhole in the street and an old coal chute to gain entrance to the basement."

Republican Women's Club hears Dr. Edw. Ragsdale

Dr. Edward Ragsdale, Madison County Republican chairman, addressed the Granite City Republican Women's Club at the opening fall session held at the Grand Cafe.

A dinner preceded the meeting with Mrs. Bethel Davis giving the invocation and Ray Edwards Jr., leading the pledge to the flag.

Mrs. Louise Dutko introduced Dr. Ragsdale who spoke on the subject, "Creating Interest In Political Activities." He said door to door campaigning is effective as well as phone calls made from the home or campaign headquarters.

At the national tax limitation meeting held in St. Louis, it was noted the government takes an average percent of every $1 earned, the guest speaker announced. He added "taxation is always a vital problem and is only solved by electing men who help to bring taxes down."

After his talk, Dr. Ragsdale engaged in an question and answer session with the members.

Accompanying the speaker was John Varnado who is serving as publicity chairman for the Madison County Republican Club. He reminded the group that if all bills in the legislature had been passed everyone in the state would owe $1,200, and added it takes 24 million dollars a day to run the state of Illinois.

Mrs. Edna Kohlbrecher, president, conducted the officers roll call and extended appreciation to those who arranged the July picnic. She announced cards of sympathy were sent to Janet Wilson whose mother died and Mrs. Gladys Pape, whose husband died this month.

Mrs. Lillie Ann Firner submitted a final report on the summer picnic and read a message from Mrs. Wilson.

Mrs. Roy Lynn led a discussion on Republican governors and especially Gov. James Thompson.

Members agreed to send a memorial gift to the First United Presbyterian Church in memory of Alfred Pape, and Mrs. Ruth Lucas reported on sending cards to members.

Interior wood surfaces topic of GC Homemakers

The Granite City Unit of Homemakers Extension held its first meeting of the fall session last week at the Nameoki United Presbyterian Church under the leadership of Chairman Wilma Owca.

A lesson entitled, "Interior Wood Surfaces-Keep Them Lovely" was presented by Catherine Mauck, Madison County Extension Advisor. She suggested guides for care of wood surfaces in the home, including furniture, accessories, walls, floors and implications for the consumer.

She added, even though increasing numbers of simulated wood surfaces and plastic coatings over wood surfaces appear on items for today's home, many homemakers still have wood surfaces to care for.

Mrs. Mack stressed the importance of checking hang tags for care and quality when purchasing furniture. She explained that solid wood and veneer is neither a measure of quality and often are combined in one piece. If veneer is well made, it is strong and less likely warp and split than solid wood. The guest speaker mentioned types of finishes and methods of cleaning with a short demonstration of brand name products. In conclusion she said it is not necessary to polish furniture more than twice a year.

During the meeting a silver platter engraved with the name of Rosalia Johannmeier, a member who died recently, was presented to the group.

The next meeting will be held at the Nameoki United Presbyterian Church on Tuesday, Oct. 3, at 12 noon. The lesson will be on the subject, "The Schoolroom Today" it was announced.

Refreshments were served by hostesses Alma Beckman and Laura Travis.

Others present were Hazel Cline, Toni Lynch, Anna Michels, Olivia Bergschneider, Anne Pare, Elsie Stephens, Louise Johnson, Hulda Griffith, Bernice Johannmeier, Marie Johnson, Martha Taylor, Helen Parks, Bessie Grasso, Wanda Schewe, Mary Zikovich, Josephine Uram, Freddy McElroy, Wilma Owca, Mary Blankenship, Martha McElroy, LeNeil Lesseg and Mary Uherick.

When you realize what it's worth, there's no place like home.

Your home's worth money to you. Big money. And you can get it without selling, because you have equity.

As your property value increases, so does your equity.

And the bigger your equity, the more you can borrow from in a large Homeowner Loan.

With the cost of homes going up and up, chances are your equity is a lot more than you realize. And you're probably good for a much larger loan than you imagine.

If it's big money you're after, remember:

'Friends Night' for Granite Chapter 650

"Friends Night" was celebrated last week by Granite Chapter 650, Order of the Eastern Star, with Pat Drew and Chris Ringhausen, both of the Jerseyville OES Chapter, serving as worthy matron and patron, respectively.

Mrs. Dorothy Watkins and Bill Watkins are worthy matron and patron, respectively, of Chapter 650. Lois Ann Bilbrey, soloist, sang a song to the guest of honors.

Mrs. Watkins presented a corsage and gift to Mrs. Drew and read the poem, "What Is A Friend."

Ringhausen received a gift from Watkins. Nine members of the Jerseyville chapter were introduced.

Also presented were grand lecturers, Opal Atchison, Queen City Chapter, Bernice Barlette, Jerseyville, and Hazel Wood, Arline Fox, Mary Bilbrey and Betty McClintock, all of Chapter 650. There were 16 grand chapter committee members and seven past matrons and patrons at the event.

Filling the offices with Mrs. Drew and Ringhausen were: Edith Harris, New Hope Chapter, secretary; Ann Ogden, Jerseyville, treasurer; Barbara McCoy, Centralia, conductress; Rose Marie Marshall, Unity Chapter, associate conductress; Irene Kessler and Dee Harbison, New Hope Chapter, and marshal, respectively; Allen McCurry, Rob Morris Chapter, guest sentinel.

Rachel Larsen, organist; Bertha Frith, Adah; Virginia John, Ruth; Dorothy Brokaw, Esther; Blanche Lane, March; Florence Spohr, Electa; Lloyd Lewis, warder; David John, sentinel; and Lois Ann Bilbrey, soloist, all of Granite Chapter 650.

Mrs. McClintock was in charge of programs and Hazel Wood was instructress. The dining room was tastefully decorated, with large crocheted cups holding flowers and as centerpieces on the tables, signifying the theme, "A Cup of Hospitality."

Smaller crocheted cups filled with candy mints were placed for each person as a memento. Arrangements for the event were under the supervision of Bonnie and Jerry Fisher, John DeHart and Peggy Gibbons.

Mrs. Lane announced the names of those receiving "get well" and sympathy cards during the past month. She also was congratulated on becoming a great-grandmother.

Mrs. Brokaw also received congratulations upon the birth of a granddaughter and Mrs.

Mary Hoover for a new great-granddaughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Rufus LeMaster and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lanham were honored, having celebrated their 50th anniversary, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kagy for their 25th anniversary.

Birthday honorees were Betty Kelso and Avis Joiner, Granite Chapter, and Mrs. Kessler, New Hope.

It was announced that Mr. and Mrs. Watkins will serve as officers on "Guest Nights" in Greenville, Edwardsville and Alton in September.

Mrs. Donna Kagy, associate matron, served as an officer last week in Trenton and Belleville.

The chapter's Past Matrons Club will meet tonight in the home of Mrs. Mary Ellen Lewis, Mrs. McClintock, club president, reported.

$1,800 vandalism Maryville School

Madison County Deputy Steve Crockarell discovered a burglary and extensive vandalism at Maryville School at 5:32 a.m. Saturday, and an eight-hour cleanup was begun in order to have the school ready for classes today.

Estimated damage, loss of materials and added labor costs is expected to exceed $1,800, it was reported.

The deputy pulled his squad car into the parking lot of the school to turn around and saw school material lying on the floor of one of the rooms. He called Granite City police and principal Mulach.

The intruders entered the building by peeling paint from around a window and removed the window in Room 148. Once inside, they completely ransacked the room, throwing papers from desks and cabinets and spraying green paint on the walls, floor and blackboards.

In the main hallway the fire extinguisher was removed and windows in four classrooms were broken. Records and earphones were taken from the Learning Center and later found on heating units of two rooms.

The vandals ransacked the kitchen area, leaving meat on the counters and the freezer doors open. Outside the school, various school materials were found on the playground and underneath portable classrooms.

Mulach commended the two custodians, Fred Bilbrey and Gary McFalls and cooks, Louise McKennon and Irene Bartels, for the clean-up job they completed by working all day Saturday.

Teachers whose rooms were ransacked also were contacted and arrived at the school to sort instructional supplies from the debris and to salvage as much as possible, as well as records and equipment.

Other than the meat and foods that was lost in the kitchen, it also was noted that knives and meat cutting equipment were missing from the kitchen area.

To take the test, the registered EMT must be at least 21 years old and have had recent health care experience. The course which begins Oct. 16 will be taught on Mondays, Tuesdays and Thursdays from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. It is offered through the auspices of Belleville Area College.

Further information is available from Memorial Hospital, 233-7750, extension 246.

Amateur photographers interested in learning how to achieve better pictures with their snapshot cameras are invited to attend an introductory course in photography at the Tri-City Area YMCA, starting Thursday at 7 p.m.

The course will include an introduction to camera handling and care, light sensitive materials, developing film and printing in black and white, composition and story telling. Designed primarily for owners of snapshot cameras and more complex cameras, who are not sure how to use the "f" stops and varying speeds, the nine week instruction program will improve picture taking technique and better knowledge of photography in general, a YMCA officer said.

Those wishing to set up a darkroom at home or elsewhere may obtain the appropriate information and participation will allow amateurs to communicate better with a commercial photo lab to obtain more satisfactory pictures. Further information may be secured by calling the YMCA at 876-7200.

38-year Area Chamber work shown in film

The program, available to other organizations, traces a 38-year span through community accomplishments occurring during each president's service in office.

The report shows, however, that total traffic deaths for the first eight months of 1978 are down 6.3 percent from the same period in 1977.

Warehouse entered twice in one day

Walter Aerns of Amaco Plumbing and Heating reported Thursday that someone climbed the fence around his warehouse, near 25th Street and the railroad tracks, the previous night and ransacked all the vehicles on the lot.

The intruder broke door locks and entered buildings, closing a guard dog in an office.

Aerns secured the buildings and returned a few hours later to find the premises again had been entered. It has not yet been determined if anything is missing.

Revamped state agency recruiting foster parents

Due to a recent state reorganization, the Illinois Department of Children and Family Services' East St. Louis Region now serves the counties of Madison, St. Clair, Monroe and Randolph, as well as Washington, Clinton and Bond counties.

Although the department's administrative structure was converted from 18 geographic areas to eight regions, service delivery will remain constant, according to Anthony Jenkins, regional director.

Jenkins added that the region's seven field offices and centralized Child Abuse Investigation facility in Maryville continue to be staffed by the same social workers and supervisory personnel.

The East St. Louis region expects to serve about 400 children in foster care during the fiscal year that began in July 1978. A. J. Becker, the region's supervisor of field services, explained that the department's overall goal is to serve children in their own homes whenever possible.

Becker said approximately 1,600 children will be served by the region in their natural homes each month.

In order to meet the placement needs of area youth, the region has set a goal of recruiting 53 additional foster home spaces for teenagers and 30 additional spaces for younger children.

The main requirements for foster parents are flexibility, patience and understanding. Foster parents must be at least 21 years of age. Although married couples are preferred, single applicants are considered for older children.

All foster parents are paid a fee, ranging from $12 per month for an infant up to $170 per month for a teenager.

This fee includes board, allowance and regular clothing needs. Medical, dental and pharmaceutical expenses are paid separately.

Foster parents are licensed without charge by the department and must attend several training sessions before children are placed with them.

Those interested in getting more information about the department's foster home program may call the offices in Granite City at 876-8985.

Meet here on aid to former prisoners

The Rev. David Weimer, First Baptist Church, East Alton, said today, "Have you ever wondered how you could help the prison population explosion? About 60 percent of those incarcerated now will return to jail or prison after being released unless something or someone does something, such as at a Granite City meeting Sept. 18.

"CUP (Communities Upholding Persons) is a proven program for helping prisoners and their families. Of all the persons who have been involved in the program, only 15 percent have returned to jail or prison. "CUP is local person involved with offenders and their families at the point of their need. It is the philosophy that corrections and criminal justice are community programs, and that no system can fulfill its expectations without the total involvement of the community.

"Madison County CUP invites all to attend an informational meeting at any of three locations: Sept. 18, 7 p.m., Granite City Township Hall; Sept. 19, 7 p.m., E. Alton Municipal Bldg., Meeting Rm. Sept. 20, 7 p.m., Walter Schiemer Realty, Community Rm., 405 E. Vandavia, Edwardsville.

Arrested on five charges

Michael Jordan, 18, of 2009 Beckwith Ave., Madison, was arrested on five charges after being stopped on Madison Avenue by Madison Patrolman Gary Marsala at 9:40 p.m. Friday. He allegedly was traveling at a high rate of speed and when stopped by the police officer became abusive, the officer said.

According to the report, the officer had to use physical force to get Jordan into the squad car and while inside the booking area of Madison police headquarters, Jordan allegedly started to fight and used profanity.

Jordan allegedly kicked Marsala in the left arm and left side and threatened to kill Marsala and another officer, Norris Horton.

Jordan was arrested on charges of resisting a peace officer, aggravated battery, disorderly conduct, careless driving and not having a driver's license on his person.

Options on expiration date of auto licenses

Secretary of State Alan J. Dixon said today his office has completed mailing 5,703,631 pre-print renewal applications for 1979 multi-year staggered registration automobile license plates.

Additional renewal mailings will be made Sept. 15 and Nov. 15 on new vehicle registrations filed after July 17.

I am pleased that, even with the necessary additional information for 1979 plates, our office sent out a comparable number of renewal forms by Aug. 31, three days ahead of last year," Dixon said.

All pre-print applications for 1979 multi-year plates list fees and expiration dates for both short and extended options. Staggered registration, by 1980, will spread passenger car renewals from March through November, eliminating the three coldest months for putting expiration stickers on the rear plate.

The same aluminum plates issued for 1979 will be used through 1983, saving $21 million over the five-year period.

Dixon emphasized that owners may select either the short or extended option, with all fees prorated monthly. There is no increase in the annual license charge.

Deadline for reassignment and special license number requests is Sept. 30, as established by state law.

Over-the-counter sales of 1979 plates will begin Dec. 1, the same date it is legal to display the new blue and white plates. Plates will be available to the public at financial institutions, as before. However, only the short option is available with the sales beginning Dec. 1.

C. 20423, an application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity permitting the abandonment of the Illinois Terminal's operation over a line of railroad owned by the Illinois Central Gulf Railroad extending from Mont, Illinois, to Springfield, Illinois, a distance of 81.24 miles in Madison, Macoupin, Montgomery, and Sangamon Counties, Illinois. The Illinois Terminal is a tenant for operating purposes only on the common line and has no station located thereon. The reason for the proposed abandonment of operations is requested by the Illinois Central Gulf to abandon a major portion of this line and request by the Interstate Commerce Commission in AB 48 (Sub-No. 30). Illinois Central Gulf has offered substantial trackage rights over a substantially parallel line between Springfield, Illinois, and Springfield, Illinois, and the Illinois Terminal, by separate application, is making request for trackage rights over the substituted trackage. This line of railroad has appeared on the system of railroads in Category 1 since March 28, 1978. The interest of railroad employees will not be adversely affected, but Illinois Terminal will expect to conform with any conditions imposed by the Interstate Commerce Commission under Section 512(f) of the Act. Written comments will be considered by the Commission in determining conditions and in determining whether to conduct an investigation on its own motion. In the event an investigation is conducted, then the commenting party may participate in the proceeding as its interests may appear. 2. File with the Interstate Commerce Commission a petition requesting that the application and proposed abandonment of operations be investigated. The petition to investigate shall be in the form of a verified statement, and at minimum contain: (a) Identification of petitioner including its name, address, and business; (b) Identification of petitioner's interest in the abandonment or discontinuance proceeding; whether the petitioner uses the line, service; and if it does not, information with respect to the group of public interest it represents; (c) Specific reasons for requesting the institution of an investigation, including information with respect to petitioner's reliance on the involved service, with allegations; (d) Any rebuttal of information of material submitted by applicant; and (e) Request for oral hearing and reasons therefor if desired. Upon receipt of a petition to investigate, the Commission shall determine the extent of the investigation to be instituted.
